

FEATURING

The Carolina Moon Musik Ensemble - perform an unconventional brew of world music and jazz with ancient and modern roots, evocative looped guitar scapes, exotic grooves, flavours of flamenco, klezmer, Arabic and Gaelic and wild, boundary stretching improvisations - at the heart of which lie the beautiful Ladino melodies of Judeo Spain.

TEK TEK Ensemble - is a festive anthropological mini-orchestra consisting of three guys and three girls playing trumpet, trombone, violins, percussion, guitars, double bass, piano accordion, and the human voice. TEK TEK ensemble experiments and creates new compositions with inspiration from exotic and festive music from across the globe. The encyclopaedic repertoire of the ensemble is bound by the strict yet simple stipulation of danceability.

Feel The Manouche -

Manouche is a term derived from the Romany gypsies of Europe, what we in Australia call gypsy jazz. This fine band has been put together by it's individual members as an exercise in small group swing. Feel the Manouche has a 'world music' feel. Through it's use of double bass, guitar, accordion & fiddle, the band achieves a strong melodic groove that can take on gypsy waltzes, swing jazz, choro and many other flavours of music from our diverse planet.

Lionel Robinson & The Dukes of Lounge -

WARNING: This act could be too much fun! British singer / pianist / tunesmith LR returns to Thredbo with a sackful of songs, an outrageous line-up of musos and a couple of nice shirts. Take a blend of Latin rhythms & sizzling swing, add a smattering of smoochy American songbook and plenty of sixties sauce and you've got the delicious Dukes.

ADDITIONAL WARNING: Book early for Cascades Sunday lunch!

Rick Robertson Trio -

Well known for his work with internationally acclaimed and award winning acid jazz band d.i.g, Baecastuff and more recently with Eon Beats, saxophonist/vocalist Rick Robertson has a wealth of experience and success being one of the founding members of D.I.G and Eon. He has played all over the world at major festivals and funky clubs from New York to Berlin, won Mo and Apra awards and been nominated for 3 Aria Awards.

Afrobeat -

Don't miss Afro Moses and his 3 piece band "AFROBEAT / REGGAE SPIRIT" - the dynamic dreadlocked showman is back from Africa to blow you away with his unique blend of Afro-fusion - Reggae, afrobeats, funk, jazz, percussion and more as he teams up with superstar multi-instrumentalists Asim Gorashi and Blair Greenberg. Afro is an incredibly diverse artist who is fresh from performing and writing with reggae greats, The Australian Chamber Orchestra, various choirs, music for Aussie and International films and much more. A vibrant, high-energy stage show - be prepared to dance, jump, singalong and sweat to these infectious grooves.

Indiajiva -

is centred around multi-instrumental duo Ron Ragel and Vicki Hansen, based around classical Indian and jazz fusion. They perform an array of traditional and modern instruments, such as sitar, lap steel guitar, keyboards, flutes, didgeridoo and voice. The five piece global collective is completed by Nigel Date on guitar, tabla player and percussionist Nila Hagglund and saxophone/flute master Emanuel Leiberfreund.

Jeff Duff All Stars -

In a flamboyant & often controversial career Jeff Duff has been one of the most popular and regular performers at Thredbo Jazz Festival and this year he'll be bringing his star-studded trio featuring Glenn Rhodes [keyboards] & Ben Isackson [drums].

Jeff possesses one of the finest voices in Australia and his albums and live performances cover just about every musical genre. Fronting half a dozen uniquely eclectic line-ups including 'Ziggy' his David Bowie spectacular, Jeff performs regularly at the Opera House, State Theatre, Enmore Theatre, Basement and most major music festivals in Australia.

"The Rinky Dinks" -

Will be featuring "Continental" Robert Susz (vocals & harmonica), Clayton Doley (Hammond organ & vocals), Adam Pringle (guitar & vocals) & Antero Ceschin (drums & vocals). Playing a mix of down home blues jazz & boogaloo & inspired by greats like Jimmy Smith, Charles Brown, T. Bone Walker, Little Walter to name a few, they'll be combining their original compositions with versions of some of the treasures from the vaults. Their sole aim is to turn on the audiences by playing the music they love!

The Harry Brus Rhythm Ride -

The Harry Brus Rhythm Ride is a melting pot of soulful and funky grooves, rounded out with elements of jazz, blues and R&B, featuring the fresh new talents of soulful blues vocalist, Milena Barrett. The sweet guitar tones of Franco Raggatt & premier Hammond organist, Sam Boyd are blended with the solid, dynamic and soulful style of Harry Brus on bass & the king of cool groove, Keith Sullivan on drums to provide a world class outfit.

Nigel Gavin & Richard Adams -

As two members of the Nairobi Trio, Adams and Gavin will need very little introduction. Gavin on guitars and Adams on violin continue to explore a palette of colours Gavin and Adams have a knack of exploring sounds with wit and grace and a real ear for melodic themes which makes for an easy on the ear yet memorable experience. Guitarists will be simply astonished by the technique on display here. Nigel's finger-picking is so fast, so smooth, and so laden with sudden virtuoso explosions that it is damn near impossible to work out either what he's doing, or how he's doing it. is one of New Zealand's musical treasures. The eccentric range of his musical projects is matched only by his astonishing virtuosity with stringed instruments and his prodigious musical imagination.

The Hot Potato Band -

Be prepared. Anything could happen! The Hot Potato Band brings New Orleans to the streets of New South Wales with traditional and modern arrangements of some of the hippest tunes to date. Sure to put a smile on your face, this exciting and energetic band is filled with life, fun and laughs as they make you the centre of their performance... literally!

The Redeemers -

Performing at the Thredbo Jazz Festival for the first time, Jules Boulton will bring his seasoned professionalism, and a little bit of Melbourne, to the stage in New South Wales. He will be joined by his band - The Redeemers. This promises to be an unforgettable performance that all music lovers will enjoy.

Raphael A. Nazario's -

'Trio Sol' embodies a synthesis of straight-ahead jazz and Latin music sensibilities. Raphael's love for melody is amply demonstrated in his original works. Reverence for the classics and an adventurous spirit shed fresh light on well-known Latino and American Songbook standards. Stylistically, they manage to bridge straight-ahead Swing jazz with Salsa, Bossa and Bolero. Trio Sol is Raf Nazario on keyboards, Andrea Pacifico on Percussion and Junichi Shiomi on Bass.
