The school holidays have kicked off with amazing conditions with over 30 cm of fresh snow falling over the weekend. Now the most anticipated and fun event of the school holidays is just around the corner, the Torah Bright Mini Shred supported by Toyota in Thredbo on Sunday July 15.

Torah has gathered an all-star line-up of Australian Olympians and legends to be guest coaches for the 2018 event, after inspiring us all in Pyeongchang they are sure to bring plenty to this year's Torah Bright Mini Shred.

The coaches are some of Australia's best from the Pyeongchang including Olympic silver medallist Jarryd Hughes, Toyota Ambassador Belle Brockoff, Jess Rich, plus other Olympic legends including six time Para Olympic Gold Medallist Michael Milton, Dual Olympians Manuela Berchtold and Scott Kneller...Plus local legends including Jye Kearney, Charles Beckinsale and many others.

All about inspiring the next generation the Torah Bright Mini Shred gives kids the chance to ski and snowboard with their friends, pick up tips from the industry best and learn to progress in a super fun environment.

"The Mini Shred is my favourite day of the year. It's fun, it's about making new friends to shred with and learning new things. Seeing the talent level of little Aussie shredders is amazing...And it's incredible to have such a brilliant line-up of inspiring athletes and Olympians to share advice, tips and stoke with all the kids...It's going to be an amazing day" said Torah Bright.

"The coaching line up this year is amazing. All are Aussie snow legends and will be sharing their skills and knowledge with the littlies. Plus Jarryd, Belle, Michael, Jess, Manuela and Scott are just as pumped as the kids. I can't wait to see everyone get stoked on the day. You might even find Jarryd flashing his new Olympic medal" said Torah
